

Southwell New

Tr. 1. Behold, and have regard, Ye servants of the Lord, Who in his house by night do watch, Praise him with one accord.

T. 2. Lift up your hands on high, Un-to his ho-ly place. And give the Lord his praises due, His benefits embrace.

B. 3. For why? the Lord our God Doth Zion bless, and will preserve For evermore the same.
Who heav'n and earth did frame,

Published in 1721 without words; these words added, the usual words to Southwell, which music appears on the same page.
Probably the first sacred music written in what is now the United States.