

Joseph Hart, 1759.
Amended by Richard Coke and
Francis Asbury, 1790

Kingston

87. 87. 87.

Transcribed from The Missouri Harmony, 1820.

A minor

Amos Pilsbury, 1799

Tr. $\frac{2}{4}$ 5 10 15 1. A-go-ni-zing in the gar-den, Lo! your Ma-ker pro-strate lies! "It is fi-nished! It is fi-nished!" Sin-ners, will not this suf-fice? 2. On the bloody tree behold him! Hear him cry be-fore he dies, } "It is fi-nished! It is fi-nished!" Sin-ners, will not this suf-fice?

C. $\frac{2}{4}$ 2. { Lo! th'in-car-nate God ascending, Pleads the merit of his blood; } None but Je-sus, None but Je-sus, Can do helpless sinners good. 3. Venture on him, venture freely, Let no o-ther trust in-trude; }

T. $\frac{2}{4}$ 8. { Saints and angels joined in concert, Sing the praises of the Lamb, } Hal-le-lu-jah! Hal-le-lu-jah! Sinners here may do the same. 3. { While the blissful seats of heaven, Sweet-ly echo with his name; }

B. $\frac{2}{4}$

A folk hymn. See David Music (1995) for a discussion of the history of this tune.