

1 Christ has risen, the mighty Lion

Resurrexit leo fortis

WOLVERTON 98 98 98

Robert C. Page
(b.1952)

1. Christ has ri - sen, the might - y Li - on; hell de - fea - ted be -
2. Light comes up from the depths a - bys - sal, bright - ness streams from the
3. Greet the day of the Lord's own ma - king, day when glad - ness and 4. Come then, bro - thers and sis - ters, sing - ing 'Christ has ri - sen from neath Him lies; Christ has ri - sen, the Lamb of mer - cy once an shades of night; shoots have sprung from the Grain that per - ished thrust - ing grace draw near; day when bless - ings from God the Fa - ther drive out death to - day! Sing in hope of a re - sur - rec - tion when all in - no - cent sac - ri - fice; Hea - ven sings and the out in - to life and light; sea and land and the e - very des - pair and fear; day in hon - our a - dark - ness shall pass a - way, and God's peo - ple may earth sings with it, wave_ of o - cean with joy re - plies.

skies a - bove them all_ re - joice with the new de - light.
bove all o - thers, bright - est glo - ry of all our year!
see His beau - ty, face_ to face in e - ter - nal day.

*Translated from a Latin hymn (probably early C15) by Richard L. Sturch
(b.1936)*