

O Lord, send out thy light and truth

Joseph Key

This edition by Edmund Gooch released into the public domain
June 2014

Text: Thomas Sternhold, on Ps. 43

Psalm XLIII. Ver. 3

O Lord, send out thy light and truth, And lead me, lead me with thy grace,
Then shall I to thy altar go, With joy, with joy to worship there;
Why art thou then so sad, my soul, And frett'st thus, frett'st thus in my breast?
By him I have deliveredance From all, from all my pain and grief;

9

Which may conduct me to thy hill, And to thy dwelling,
And on my harp give thanks to thee, O God, my God, most Still trust in God, for him to praise I hold it all ways,
He is my God, who doth all way At need send me re -

O Lord, send out thy light and truth (Joseph Key)

16

place,
dear,
best,
-lief,

and to thy dwel - - ling place.
O God, my God most dear.
I hold it al - - ways best.
at need send me re - lief.

And to thy dwel - - ling place,
O God, my God most dear,
I hold it al - - ways best,
At need send me re - lief,

and to thy dwel - - ling place.
O God, my God most dear.
I hold it al - - ways best.
at need send me re - lief.

place,
dear,
best,
-lief,

and to thy dwel - - ling place.
O God, my God most dear.
I hold it al - - ways best.
at need send me re - lief.

And to thy dwel - - ling place,
O God, my God most dear,
I hold it al - - ways best,
At need send me re - lief,

and to thy dwel - - ling place.
O God, my God most dear.
I hold it al - - ways best.
at need send me re - lief.

Notes:

The alto part is printed in the source in the treble clef an octave above sounding pitch.

Only the first verse of the text given here (verse 3 of Sternhold's Ps. 43) is printed in the source: the subsequent verses have been added editorially.

The original time signature is retorted time.