

Supremacy

Josiah Condor

Norman Tomblin

Thou art the e - ver - la - sting Word The Fa - ther's on - ly son God ma - ni - fe - stly
In thee most per - fe - ctly ex - pressed The Fa - ther's glo - ries shine Of the full de - i - True i - mage of the in - fi - nite Whose e - ssence is con - cealed Bright - ness of un - cre -
But the high mys - teries of thy name An a - ngel's grasp tran - scend The Fa - ther on - ly - Through - out the u - ni - verse of bliss The cen - tre thou and sun The e - ter - nal theme of seen and heard And heaven's be - lo - ved One Wor - thy, O Lamb of God, art thou

- ty po - sessed E - ter - na - lly di - vine Wor - thy, O Lamb of God, art thou
- a - ted light The heart of God re - vealed Wor - thy, O Lamb of God, art thou
- glo - rious claim The Son can com - pre - hend one: Wor - thy, O Lamb of God, art thou praise is this To heaven's be - lo - ved

That e - very knee to thee should bow. That e - very knee to thee should bow.
That e - very knee to thee should bow. That e - very knee to thee should bow.
That e - very knee to thee should bow. That e - very knee to thee should bow.
That e - very knee to thee should bow. That e - very knee to thee should bow.